To protect your pet's skin and coat, avocado is added to provide essential fatty acids to complement your pet's natural oils. The Makers of AvoDerm

The Breeder's Choice Story

In 1947, Harold Taylor started Breeder's Choice Pet Food company with a simple goal: the uncompromising pursuit of the healthiest nourishment for the pets we love. Our commitment means we use only superior natural ingredients which are meticulously cooked for complete and wholesome nutrition.

And unlike many other pet food companies, we make our own dry food and treats in our state of the art facility in California. This way we can carefully monitor how each bag is made.

We balance our formulas to provide complete nutrition for your pet's health and well being. While many try to copy us, none have succeeded in matching our devotion to the best. This is what separates us from the rest; it is what we call the Breeder's Choice Difference.
